The Coastal Empire Region PCA's Driver's Education

Parade Laps at Roebling Road in September - Ok, ok, I know several of you are probably tired of some of us talking about what fun we're having on the track. If you're just not sure what it's all about, check out an event as close to Charleston as you can get and with another PCA Region close to our hearts. The Coastal Empire Region PCA will be hosting their Fall Driver's Education Event at Roebling Road Raceway on September 22-23, 2012. As much as the Coastal Empire Group would like you to participate in the full DE, as a part of the Palmetto Region PCA Board's continued efforts for 2012 to expose members to Driver's Education Events, we have arranged for Parade Laps to be a part of this event around Roebling Road Raceway during the lunch hour on Saturday. The Parade Laps are run at a reduced speed (approx. 45 mph) and windows must be down. If you've been to the track to watch before, Parade Laps are a great way to see the whole track through the windshield rather than just behind the fence in certain corners. The track takes on a different perspective as a driver making the best of each corner even at relatively slow speeds. Your P-car is not required to participate in Parade Laps, but I think it would enjoy them.

Since Joe and I will be at Roebling on Friday afternoon, we are looking for a volunteer(s) to lead a group from Charleston to the Track on Saturday morning, September 22. Once you arrive and sign the entry waiver, you can roam the infield checking out the amazing cars (the Knobe boys have enjoyed this before!) and watching the action on the track. The lunch hour on Saturday is from Noon to 1 pm. Roebling has a concession stand with reasonably priced items (burgers, sandwiches, chips, drinks). You may want to bring your hat, sunglasses, sunscreen, water, and a chair (there are no stands for spectators). No alcohol is allowed until the track goes cold at 5 pm.

Also, note for the September Event, if you have been considering trying a Driver's Education Program for the first time but are concerned about purchasing a helmet and then not wanting to continue, we have something for you. The Coastal Empire Region has a limited number of helmets for you to wear at this event, free of charge. Registration is now open on www.clubregistration.net. Special rates for lodging are available ($69 + tax) at the Hampton Inn & Suites Savannah Airport (912-966-1240). When making your reservation, please make sure you mention you are part of the Coastal Empire Region event. All passing is done with a point by and Green Group has 1 hour of classroom instruction on both Saturday and Sunday. I hope to see you at the track! Jennifer Mills

(By: Jackie Dasen)

There is one thing definite that can be said about this year's photo drive and dine, HOT! Not only was it steamy hot but I know for sure that we are going to see some steamy hot photos from this event. Our photographer was Sean Troy and he's got a great eye for photographing vehicles. But you will have to exercise some patience's as Sean takes care to publish only the best. As the photos are edited and published you can find them on our website in the club photo album.

Our event started out with all our cars, 10 Porsche's total, meeting on the Top Deck of a downtown parking garage near The Market. What a sight it was to see 10 Porsches of various years, models and colors, from the old and traditional to the new and innovative. We even had a tourist stop and pull out his camera to take a picture of all our "babies" lines up along one wall. We obviously became a conversation piece since Ken and I were asked by one of the Doubletree Hotel employees (when we stopped out front the hotel after leaving the garage to wait for the other cars) if we were with the group that was up on the parking garage.

Leaving the garage we travelled to Sullivan's Island and the Isle of Palms. Our second stop was at the Inlet between Sullivan's Island and Isle of Palms. Finding some much wanted shade we huddled around as the cars took turns getting their photos taken at the inlet, in a very nice scenic location. A unplanned photo opt presented itself at this location to, so before heading over to Morgan Creek Grill on Isle of Palms for our dinner reservation we took the opportunity for a few more individual car photos.

As is typical of the Low Country during the steamy summer months we had the pleasure of sitting by the water and watch a very nice lightning show during a very nasty storm. As the storm raged we vacated our tables to other waiting guests and lingered at the bar, some of us ended up staying much later than planned due to some water issues with the roads. But I don't think any of us were complaining since we were among good friends and enjoying swapping vacation stories, car stories and just enjoying each other's company.

If anyone has any suggestions for scenic photo locations for next year's event please let me know.

I'd also like to thank our Zone 3 Representative Bob Saville and his wife Nadine, from Charlotte, NC for attending the event. I think Nadine's GT3 was the talk of the event. I'd like also thank Karl Troy for his generosity at this event. And of course a big Thank you to our photographer, Sean Troy.

The Chronicles of Sir Stuttgart

By: Stuie Dasen

Hi, Porsche People! It's me again, Sir Stuttgart. I sure hope you are all enjoying this wonderfully, steamy hot summer. I am because I get to play outside a lot. Well, until the thunder boomers come along, though I would stay out there if mom let me. I like running through the wet grass, and you are probably wonder why, right? Well, Geeze, it's really pretty simple. BUGS!

Yes, bugs! I know you humans don't like them. But have you really taken a look at them. They are pretty cool. They come in all different shapes, sizes, colors, and flavors. Some are real slow. They aren't much of a challenge to a professional hunting dog like me. Then there are super, sonic fast ones, now they are a challenge. It would definitely be much easier to catch those ones if there weren't so many human things in my way, Geeze! Do you know how hard it is to catch a fast moving bug when you have to dodge a patio table with chairs, a lounge chair, a fire pit, my mini swimming pool and I can't even count how many of them potted plants are out there. At least the hot tub is a soft tub style so when I run head first into it I don't get too bad a headache.

So, I personally like when it rains because it brings out all these interesting little creatures to chase and capture. Oh, and worms too. The rain brings them out and they are great to yank out of the ground and then roll your head around on. Mom yells at me when she catches us doing it, Geeze!

I'd like to end by saying that since all of you that are reading this drive Porsche's, superfast, awesome cars, that you should have no problem chasing and catching bugs. I think I'll recommend to mom, dad and Ms. Jennifer that they should see about putting together a Porsche Bug chasing event. I think you would all have a fantastic time. And I could come too because I'd have to show you all how to do it. Happy Driving Porsche People!

PS: I'm on Facebook: Stuie Dasen, so if you want to be my friend send me a request. I like getting new friends.

GERMAN RECIPE

“Bauernbrot - A Receipe for German Farmer’s Bread”

(source: About.com German Food, Jennifer McGavin)

So far, this is one of the easiest recipes for recreating the German bread experience. This bread uses half white and half whole wheat flours, some sourdough for taste, and caraway seeds. Two rises make this bread light and easy slice. It’s perfect for serving with soup or for Abendbrot. This bread freezes well.

Prep Time: 4 hours Cook Time: 40 min Total Time: 4 hours, 40 min

INGREDIENTS:

2 ½ c. white flour (all purpose or bread flour)	½ c. rolled oats
2 ½ c. whole wheat flour (such as white whole wheat flour from King Arthur)	2 tsp. caraway seed
2 tsp. salt	1 c. plain yogurt
1 ½ tsp. instant yeast	1-2 T. water
1 c. milk mixed with 1 T. vinegar (sour milk)
¼ c. sourdough culture (optional)

PREPARATION:

Sourdough Notes: You will need to see the recipe for sourdough culture if you wish to use that ingredient.

DOUGH: Mix flours, oats, salt, caraway and instant yeast together in a large bowl. Add the sour milk, yogurt and sourdough culture and begin mixing. This is easier if you have a stand mixer, but you can do this with a large spoon, too. Mix until dough forms a ball, adding water if needed. The dough should be slightly sticky.

Continue kneading, either with the mixer or on a lightly floured board for 5-7 minutes. Let the dough rest for 5 minutes then knead again for 1 minute. Form into a smooth ball and place in an oiled bowl, turning to coat the top. Cover with a clean dish towel and let rise in a warm place until doubled.

Turn out onto a lightly floured board and form into a typical long loaf as follows:

Degas as little as possible

Pat dough into rectangle

Indent with fingertips down the middle

Fold one third to middle, lengthwise, pulling dough taut on the bottom

Press seam a little to seal

Fold other third to middle (pulling dough taut) and pinch seam closed

Roll over seam-side down and rock gently while rounding the ends and making loaf longer or fatter, as you wish.

Place on parchment paper on a baking sheet or cardboard, dust top with flour and let rise until doubled. About 30-minutes before you plan on baking, slash the top with a sharp razor blade or lame at least ¼ inch deep.

Heat oven to 500F for 1-hour prior to baking. Use a baking stone if you have it, according to manufacturer’s instructions. Otherwise, place an old pan on the bottom rack and set the second rack in the middle. Place the bread on the middle rack (still on the parchment or floured baking pan), pour 2 cups of hot water into the old pan and close the door. Using a spray bottle filled with water, spray the sides of the oven after two, five and seven minutes. Turn oven down to 450F. Bake for 20 minutes. Turn oven down to 350F and bake for another 20 to 30 minutes, or until a temperature probe measure 190-200F or loaf is brown and sounds hollow when tapped. Remove and let cool 2 hours before slicing.

Featured Member—"Louise Piech"

By Jackie Dasen

Since I didn't have anyone lined up for this month's "Featured Member" I decided on a member of the Porsche family.

Louise Piech (August 29, 1904 – February 1, 1999) was the daughter of Ferdinand Porsche, born in Wiener Neustadt, Austria-Hungary. Her brother, five years younger, was Ferdinand Anton Ernst Porsche, otherwise known as "Ferry". In 1928, Louise married Anton Piech, a lawyer from Vienna. Anton led the Volkswagen factory in Wolfsburg from 1941 to 1945.

Louise and Anton had four children: Ernst, Louise, Ferdinand and Hans-Michel. When Anton died in 1952 the Austrian businesswoman imported Porsche and Volkswagen cars to Austria. When her son Ferdinand was in charge of Porsche's sports car racing program in the late 1960s, a second works team was set up called Porsche Salzburg. One of their cars scored the marquee's first overall win at Le Mans in 1970.

Myrtle Beach D & D

Fellow Porschephiles, the next Myrtle Beach drive will be next Sunday, August 12th. We will take a nice drive north to Lands End Restaurant in Georgetown. The specialty at Land's End is their Sunday Buffet. Wear your pants with the elastic waist band and plan on a light dinner!

Myrtle Beach folks will start to gather at 11:30 at the old Carolina Forest Piggly Wiggly (2100 Oakheart Rd, Myrtle Beach)

Charleston area folks will gather at 12:00 at the Kohl's (3075 Proprietors Place, Mount Pleasant, SC and should make it to the restaurant around 1:30.

PORSCHE

Porsche to be Honored Marque at the 2013 Hilton Head Concours d'Elegance

In 2013 Porsche will be the Honored Marque at the Hilton Head Concours d'Elegance. In order to publicize this fact and build excitement, the event will feature a Porsche preview. We in the Palmetto Region PCA are planning to join our friends in Coastal Empire Region PCA to attend the 2012 Hilton Head Concours d'Elegance.

Jennifer Mills is planning a group from the Charleston area to meet a group from the Myrtle Beach area to drive down to Hilton Head on Saturday, November 3, 2012 to arrive at the Car Club Jamboree mid-day. After free time to enjoy the activities at the Jamboree, we will join Coastal Empire Region PCA members with other Concours participants for dinner at the Crazy Crab North (104 William Hilton Parkway, Hilton Head Island, SC, (843) 681-5021). Cocktails are scheduled for 6 pm with dinner at 7 pm (entrees from the menu). An invitation has been extended to Porsche of Hilton Head and Porsche Cars North America officials who will be here for the weekend. On Sunday morning, an optional rally is planned ending at the Corral at 10:30 - 11:00. From there, you can enjoy viewing the Concours d'Elegance with over 150 classic vehicles competing for the coveted title of Best of Show.

For both Saturday and Sunday, there will be a Porsche Corral with spots for 40 to 50 cars in a special parking area. The fee for 2 days admissions for 2 and parking for both days is $60.00. For out of town members & guests, arrangements have been made at the Hilton Garden Inn (1575 Fording Island Road, Hilton Head Island, South Carolina, 29926, 843-837-8111), which is at the base of the bridge to Hilton Head Island. Rooms are priced from $92.00 to $107.00.

Please let Jennifer know at Jennifer_mills@email.com if you planning to attend by mid-September

Variety is the spice of life... or a club by Jennifer Mills

Each year, the Palmetto Region PCA President is invited to a gathering of all Zone 3 Presidents hosted by the Zone 3 Representative. I have been able to join Ken at these gatherings each of the last two years. It's a great opportunity for us to hear the challenges and successes that other Regions are experiencing and learn from others ways to improve our Region. One of the overwhelming themes that comes out of the meetings is that to have continued participation by members, the calendar must contain a variety of events. As I work on the events listing each month, I think we are making progress in achieving that goal. Within the group, these are some of the reasons folks join PCA: Porsche Panorama magazine, PCA member dealership discount, Saturday morning breakfast without the spouse, autocross and DE events, mountain trips, race trips, drive & dines, photo drives, car shows for good causes, Parade, Escape, the opportunity to hear a flat 6 on a regular basis. Each member has certain activities they are interested in, and some members participate in all events while others may choose only one or two a year. Every club goes through an ebb and flow of members and activities. If you are not getting the motorsports experience you want from the Club, please let the Board know what we are missing. And maybe what you want to do will become a new favorite activity of others.

Remember to mark your calendar for what you are most interested in. There are friends from the Palmetto PCA participating or attending the following:

Saturday morning breakfast: each Saturday with Dr. Bob at the Sunflower Cafe

Drive & Dine: August 12 with the Myrtle Beach Area

Mountain Trip: Tail of the Dragon September 28-30

Driver's Education: September 22-23 at Roebling Road Raceway

Cars & Coffee: October 13

Racing: Petit Le Mans at Road Atlanta, October 18-20

Concours: November 3-4, 2012 Hilton Head Concours d'Elegance

SOMETHING GERMAN

“ NUBLOCH ”

Nubloch is a town fairly typical among small towns in Germany. There are 1-3 traffic lights, 1-2 main streets, and a few shops, loads of row houses, a main pedestrian area and a handful of churches. The town is unusual as there are two halves – the blue collar industrial portion in the southwest valley and the newer, affluent residential district in the northeast hills. Most German towns are one way or the other.

More in character with German towns, the main street is narrow and snakes through buildings that were built before the American Civil War, leaving minimal room for sidewalks. Lining the streets are Mom-and-pop restaurants, gasthouse (bed-and-breakfasts), metzgerel (butcher shops), conditorel (confectionary shops), and backerel/stehcafes (bakeries/standing cafes).

Germany does not share the American vigilance of separating church and state. There is a Catholic church and two Protestant churches (one Lutheran, the other Evangelistic). Each church has its service/Mass times posted on signs at the entrances to the town. This is common practice throughout Germany.

The staple of any German town is the main marketplatz, and Nubloch is no exception. Nubloch's is called Lindenplatz and is a simple square platz located right outside the rathaus (main municipal building). Nubloch, like most German towns, hosts a town market each week (some towns have them daily) where fresh vegetables and fruits, meats, breads and cheeses are sold. On several occasions during the year the center of the town is closed off for a festival. These festivals are lots of fun and many of the booths are local clubs that use the festivals as their primary fund-raisers.

Another point of interest in Nubloch is the Maypole. Traditionally these were used to honor a town's major families during the spring. Nowadays, it's not uncommon to see them honoring the town's major industries, sometimes to the point of the maypole being used to sell advertising space. The Maypole is always topped with a small pine tree.

Nubloch is peaceful, quiet, and friendly with plenty of activities to keep one occupied. This small German town is the temporary home of source author for this article.

Final Thoughts from the Prez...

July was definitely hot in the low country, what did you do besides hide in the air conditioning?? Well, our club had our monthly meeting at Queen Anne's Revenge on Daniel Island, a dine and drive to Snookies in Myrtle Beach, a photo drive and dine in Charleston then Isle of Palms, and there was a DE and autocross available for your driving pleasures.

We have a couple of exciting events coming up ! The DE at Roebing with Coastal Empire will be the perfect time to get more familiar with your Porsche. Even if you decide not to participate in the full DE weekend, Coastal Empire Region is arranging for some parade laps around the track to help you understand the track and your Porsche. The very next weekend is the Tail of the Dragon Run. 318 turns in 11 miles and a lot more. Register for the Tail soon as the room rates are only guaranteed until August 28th.

Let's not forget the upcoming trip to Georgetown to meet up with the Myrtle Beach Group at the Land's End Restaurant. Good food, great people and fast cars!! Who could ask for more?! I look forward to seeing you at our next event.

Keep the wheels turning - Ken
