September Driver's Education Events

Palmetto Region members were participants in recent Driver's Education Events held at Roebling Road Raceway near Savannah, GA. Please forgive me if I leave anyone out! At the Florida Crown Event held the weekend of September 6-7, Thom Penny, Nicole and JB Lefebvre, and Scott Buskirk had a wonderful weekend with lots of driving and no known problems (maybe one of them can add if there are any stories!).

Herman Porter hit Roebling mid-week on his way to Sebring in the silver 911 – one more track off the bucket list! At the Coastal Empire Event held the weekend of September 20-21, participants included Jennifer and Joe Mills, Hank Barnett, Don Curtis, Paul Kemp, David Wertan, Cliff Hudson, Scott Buskirk, and Bob Neumann. It wasn't good to be in our camp as the Miata ended up with an exhaust leak, our friend Janice's BMW had motor problems, and Cliff found the weak point that he had previously suspected on his beautiful red 968. I hear he'll be working on the clutch this weekend. Congrats to Hank on reaching instructor level and congrats to the many that were signed off solo during these weekends! We look forward to seeing Paul and David with their 944 track car at many more events soon.

Australian Police Got a New Porsche 911

By Zach Doell September 29, 2014 (<https://autos.yahoo.com/news/australian-police-got-porsche-911-200008980.html>)

Law officers of the world, prepare to be jealous. Australia's New South Wales (NSW) Police Department is just like any other local constabulary. They protect and serve, catch criminals, and oh yeah – they just got a 2014 Porsche 911 Carrera.

In a competition sponsored by Porsche Cars Australia, the NSW boys in blue were granted a brand new 911 and called upon international students in the area to help design the graphics of their new cruiser. Iranian student Sam Nejat took the prize for his finely penned Porsche police livery.

For his design efforts, Nejat, 31, will be presented with an award and will also have the vehicle visit his University of Western Sydney campus for a day. Though, it likely won't be dishing out speeding tickets or engaging in PIT maneuvers.

Rather, the police-spec Porsche will be used by NSW officers as a community engagement vehicle, which means it'll attend charity fundraisers, schools, youth programs, and other community events to "promote positive interactions between police and the community."

No harm in that. Porsche's Australian wing has previously sponsored a police-liveried Panamera for officers of the Harbourside Local Area Command for that same purpose. Now if only we could just get them to drag race...

Palmetto Region Oktoberfest - October 18th

Please join us for our annual Myrtle Beach Oktoberfest Rally Weekend on October 18th and 19th! Our headquarters for this event will once again be the beautiful oceanfront Hilton Myrtle Beach Resort.

The main daytime event on Saturday is the Gimmick Rally. For those of you not familiar with that term, a Gimmick Rally is intended to be a low key, fun event suitable for anyone regardless of previous rally experience. The event is not timed and does not involve the use of stop watches. A trophy will be awarded to our rally winners during dinner that evening. After the rally we'll have a social hour in our hospitality suite including appetizers, beer and wine.

In keeping with the time of the year and our shared love of German cars, on Saturday night we will all be bused from the hotel to a local German restaurant called Horst Gasthaus for an Oktoberfest Dinner. The Horst is a great spot with authentic German food, a casual atmosphere and live German music. The restaurant owner is setting up a separate area for our group and is even providing us with our own huge keg of special Oktoberfest beer that will be served at no additional charge to you.

After "sleeping in" a bit on Sunday, we will have breakfast together at the Hilton (included in your registration) before heading home.

This event is always a great time that you don't want to miss. We think it's also a great deal at only $78 per person, $68 for age 13 and under (plus the room cost). The cost includes the rally and awards, tee-shirt, happy hours appetizers and drinks, dinner with transportation, and breakfast. Space is limited so register now!

We have reserved a block of oceanfront rooms at a special rate of $79 at the Hilton Myrtle Beach Resort located in the Kingston Plantation area of Myrtle Beach. To reserve your room call 1-800-876-0010 and mention you are with the Porsche Group.

NOTE from the Editor

I would like to take a moment and firstly apologize for the quality and quantity of things in the past few newsletters. As many of you know I was dealing with a lot of wrist pain since the beginning of the year. In August I went ahead and had the surgery. In hind sight if I'd had it early rather than later it probably wouldn't have ended up being as involved as it was, which made it nearly impossible to do much with the left hand/wrist for a few weeks afterwards.

September rolled around with the second phase of reduced mobility, but more so then earlier. September also brought about some very difficult personal issues to deal with. Because of these issues I find myself wondering if I want to or can continue as your newsletter editor. I love doing it but I am going to ask for and REALLY NEED some input and would greatly appreciate any ideas, suggestions you may have.

In the past I've done different things. I ask that you please take a moment of your time and let me know what you liked, didn't/don't like, or would like to see more/less of. Below are some of the categories/articles/features that I've had in past newsletters. Most of the ideas were incorporated after attending a Porsche newsletter seminar at the 2008 Porsche Parade. It was advised to look at different region newsletters to see what they did, didn't do. Upon that advice and looking through numerous newsletters I set out to put together a unique and "for our region" newsletter. My goal was for our newsletter to be exciting, different, and informative and Porsche/German related.

Event articles – this encompasses writing about upcoming events and then summarizing the events of the past month.

Porsche news – this normally comes from Porsche themselves

Racing news – this information used to come from Porsche's racing recaps that would be sent out. Since we have a local race team I think it might be nice to have summaries of their races in the newsletter.

Feature member – in the past the feature member would write up a small bio on themselves. This can be changed to just featuring a picture of a member.

Feature Photo – I had hoped to get members to submit photos of their vehicles or even Porsche people at Porsche events, rather than myself choosing photos.

Something German and German Recipes – both of these came about by looking through other region newsletters and seeing what others had in their newsletters.

Chronicles of Sir Stuttgart – This was put in simply to add a little humor

Other feature items – This is a general category, and encompasses anything from featuring a nice place to drive to, featuring a local historical area, or simple (hopefully) helpful information (hurricane preparedness, etc.) and on occasion a unique story written from our cars point of view or simply changing up the words to a song to make it Porsche oriented. Articles/write ups submitted by club members.

Tech Article – Ken normally searches these out and involves a wide variety of technical issues/repairs, etc. regarding Porsches.

I am still undecided on what I want to do for 2015 so I really need member input as to what the club as a whole wants or do not want. You can email me (pors928v8@yahoo or private message me through Facebook – Jackie Wheeler Dasen or if you'd rather write contact me and I'll provide my address).

Thank you and I look forward to hearing your input.

TAIL OF THE DRAGON 2014 By Jackie

This years Tail of the Dragon was a great (as usual) event. NO incidents (other than George's dilemma with the gas cover door on his GT3. That's a story you need to ask him about), a ton of fun, especially for Cay at the end of the day when a Dodge diesel pickup (with extended tires and a jacked up body) decided it could out run a Porsche on the turns from Deal's Gap back to Fontana Lodge. DIDN'T happen (more on that later).

We departed our normal Orangeburg location and traveled to Walhalla for lunch at a nice local pizzeria in the downtown area. Some folks discovered a café/bakery shop across the street and ventured there for lunch. Keeping pretty much everyone in tow we arrived at Fontana Lodge later in the afternoon and enjoyed some great appetizers/finger foods during our social. With a bunch of "newbies" to the group this year it was a great time for folks to make new friends, and of course the veterans had to share past "tail" stories.

Saturday we got off to an early departure and hit the Tail (318 turns in 11 miles) with pretty much no traffic. Our "spirited" group led the pack, with Cay in the lead. Not sure how it happened but we out ran the 911's. I remember the younger Elliott Barrow telling me when we reached our pull off at the end of the Tail that his dad kept telling him, "slow down, we don't want to wreck". E-bear (his nickname) told me he responded, "Dad, the Cayenne is pulling away from us. It's an SUV" and trust me this young man can handle a car.

With everyone gathered up, stories of the "short" trip swapped and some pictures taken with Ferdinand in the cars it was off to Tellico Plains for lunch. We dinned at Tellico Kats along the river before heading up onto the Cherahola Skyway. Because of some low lying clouds our group picture is extremely unique. From the overlook we broke up into two groups, one going to the hill climb and the other back to the lodge and the Tail for another run.

Back at Deals Gap Motorcycle Resort some of us did a little souvenir shopping, and decided to pass on a second tail run because of the traffic heading up there. We did encounter the group of Porsche's from Greenville that we had attempted to hook-up with when the trip was being planned. It was from here that Cay had the most fun.

As stated earlier a Dodge diesel pickup "thought" it could outrun a SUV. It got the surprise of its life. Heading back to the lodge and playing catch up to Pete and Janice in the twin-turbo 928 we came upon "the pickup". I guess the driver figured his truck could out run a simple SUV. Long behold he had "no idea" it wasn't just an SUV behind him. So he floored it. The front of Cay got hit by a huge black cloud of smoke, the pickup "jiggled" on the road as it attempted to pull away. Ken looked at me and said, "Are you kidding?" We both smiled, into manual it went and within moments we caught right to them. Each turn found the pick up sliding off the road, crossing the line, and simply struggling to make the turn with any kind of speed. And a black smoke cloud on each little straightaway as the pickup attempted to escape the clutches of an "SUV". Cay was as smooth as glass through them, just going along at a "hum-dee-dee" pace as the pickup continued to try to escape "the SUV behind it."

Finally it turned off just before that gas station at Fontana Lodge and Ken and I turned around at the lodge entrance to go back to the station to pick up some drinks. Guess what? There was the pickup, refueling (wonder why?) Getting out of Cay, Ken and I walked towards the store, one of the pickup passengers approached and stated, "Hope we didn't hold you up?" Ken responded, "Oh, not at all." You could see her looking over at the Cayenne with a perplexed look. Ken glanced at Cay and asked, "You do know that is a Porsche, right?" She excitedly said, "That's what I thought and told them but we were, like, it can't be it's an SUV." Ken then kindly told her that we never got out of 3rd gear, her eyes nearly popped out of her head. After getting our drinks Ken went and talked to the driver, still pumping gas. He told me that the driver felt better knowing it was indeed a Porsche behind him because he couldn't figure out why he couldn't shake that SUV.

The fun over for the day we returned to the lodge to relax before our group dinner. Dinner was great with lots of new friends swapping new tail stories. We gave out two awards this year. The Coffee Cup award went to Frankie Kirk, how she managed it we're not really sure but she kept the coffee in an open topped cup on the Tail. The Most Enthusiastic Award went to Elliott "E-Bear" Barrow.

So all in all, another great trip to the mountains with great cars and awesome people.

Final Thoughts from the Prez...

Well, after the many days of rain, it's finally feeling a little like Fall around here. I know many of us have older Porsches that may not have functional air conditioning. With the cooler temps, it's time to get those out of the garage and enjoy them! If you've got any ideas for a Drive and Dine for this Fall/Winter into 2015, please speak up and let's get it on the calendar. Speaking of fun drives, the Gimmick Rally at Oktoberfest is coming up. Are you planning to go? German cars, German food, German BEER, and friends - what more can you want? The Hilton is beachfront and a great rate - I know some are going up Friday evening to make a long weekend of it while some may drive up after Saturday breakfast. Either way, I hope to see you there - THANK YOU to our Myrtle Beach Area for taking the lead to plan this gathering for our group. If you don't want to head north for the day or weekend, then head south to Savannah for the Speed Classic or Hilton Head for the Concours. Info for both is on the website and event listing found in this newsletter. After we enjoy these fall events, the Targa may go back in the garage to refresh some original parts. More to come as progress is made. Lastly, my girl-power story: I recently took the 997 to the grocery. As I'm walking back to the car, I see 2 ladies on the far side of the car looking and pointing. "Oh, no" I think - they've hit it with a buggy or car door. I speak and they respond "Is that your's? We love it!" They were checking out my track maps on the rear passenger window - sigh of relief! Turns out, one is an active autocrosser with her Subie and her fiancée has a Miata. Well, dang - she's engaged! If only I can find more ladies like this to introduce to some of you single guys to around here! Keep the wheels turning! Jennifer
